

Abstract

Adaptive processing of wideband signals through interpolation and direct data domain least square techniques using semicircular array

Adaptive processing of wideband signals through interpolation and direct data domain least square techniques using semicircular array