

Abstract

Darwish Abdelaziz Mohamed

Resistivity loaded broadband monopole antenna

A straight wire antenna of fixed length is narrowband due to the rapid variations in its input impedance and to a lesser degree in its radiation pattern. To make a wire antenna broadband, a resistive and / or reactive loading are needed along its length. In this paper, we consider a monopole antenna loaded with the modified Wu-King resistivity profile.