

Abstract

Darwish Abdelaziz Mohamed

Experimental investigation of radar interference

The wide spread of radars that use band linear FM (Chirp) pulses increases the demand for investigating the radio frequency interference (RFI) between such radars. This paper reviews some approximate methods of calculating the RFI when the received signals are mismatched in center frequency, bandwidth, duration or FM rate.