

Abstract

Design of broadband monopole antenna with continuous resistive loading

A broadband monopole antenna with continuous tapered resistive loading for use in wideband VHF communication systems has been designed for operation in the 30-90 MHz frequency band.