

Abstract

Dr. Gamal Haikal

The Trade of Agricultural Products in Egypt under Market Economy

The shift of the Egyptian Economy toward the Market Economy have had a great impact on the circulation of the agricultural. The research assesses the micro-macroeconomic effects of transformation of the circulation form a fully publicly controlled toward market economy with a particular focus on the effects of the shift on the inflation rate.